

TRI-WEEKLY KENTUCKY YEOMAN.

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
S. I. M. MAJOR, JR., & CO.,
MAIN STREET, NEAR THE MANSION HOUSE.

TERMS:
One copy, per annum, in advance, $3 00
One do. do. at the end of the year, 40 00
Ten copies per annum, in advance, 45 00

THE WEEKLY YEOMAN is printed on a double-medium sheet, fine paper, and with good types, at Two Dollars per year in advance.

PERFUMERY
AND FANCY ARTICLES.
DR. MILLS

HAS just received the most elegant and extensive assortment of Fine Perfumery and Fancy Articles, ever brought to this city. The stock consists of—
Hair Brushes of every style, Hair Oils, and prices
Cloth Brushes, for the Hands,
Nail Brushes,
Tooth Brushes,
Toilet Water,
Powder, Perfume,
Hair Pins,
Dentures,
Cosmetics,
Scented Salts, Confections,
Toilet Bottles,
Toilet Paper,
Envelopes,
Sealing Wax,
Wax Matches,
Violin and Guitar Strings, Satchels, Toilet Goggles.

The selection is large and varied, and contains articles of every price and pattern. Among the novelties for the Handkerchief may be found "Upper Ten," a new and fashionable perfume that cannot fail to please.

V. S. WEST & CO.,
CONFECTIONERS, AND DEALERS IN GROCERIES OF ALL KINDS.

FINE TEAS, Spices, Nuts, English and American Sauces and Pickles, Havana Cigars,
Foreign and American Sweetsmeats, &c., &c.

Pure Old Wines, Brandy, &c., &c., &c.

CORNER OF SAINT CLAIR AND BROADWAY STREETS,
Frankfort, Ky.

We are now opening an entire new and complete assortment of fine GROCERIES. Our friends and neighbours are invited to call and examine our stock, we assure them that they can get every thing from us that they wish in our line, as we are determined to keep as good and complete an assortment as can be found in the place. Our customers will get from us (fresh and well selected) articles, among which are the following:
10 lbs Prime N. O. Sugar;
3 lbs Crushed Sugar;
8 lbs Pulverized Sugar;
2 boxes Lard Sugar;
10 sacks Rio Coffee;
10 sacks Java Coffee;
2 sacks Lager Beer;
An assortment of fine Teas;
10 lbs Plantation Molasses;
10 lbs Sugar House Molasses;
5 lbs Macaroni;
40 boxes fine Table Salt;
20 boxes family Soap;
20 boxes Box Soap;
10 boxes fine chewing Tobacco;
3 gross fine cut chewing Tobacco;
2 boxes fine cut chewing Tobacco;
20 boxes Star Candles;
10 boxes Tallow Candles;
40,000 various brands Havana Cigars;
15,000 Hubbrook's Half Spanish Cigars;
15 bags cotton yarns, 4, 5, 6 and 7;
3 bags Candle Wick;
8 boxes Starch;
1 keg Indigo;
1 keg Madder;
2 lbs painted Sack;
15 lbs assorted Nuts;
Also, several cases Sardines, Pickled Oysters, fresh
Can Oysters, fresh and salted, and all kinds of
Also, a supply of Raisins, Shell Almonds, Dates, Prunes, Pie Fruits of all kinds; fresh Peaches; fresh Strawberries; preserved Pine Apples; Lemons; and all kinds of choice French Cakes; Brandy; Peach;
Lemon; Pear; Lemon Syrup; good Ale; Brown Sauce, &c.

All of which articles we will sell at wholesale or retail,
on as good terms as any in the city.

Y. S. WEST & CO.,
June 24 1854—tf.

T. CALLAGHAN,
FAMILY GROCER.

West Side Broadway, Front of Capitol Square,
Frankfort, Ky.

MOST respectfully announces to the citizens of Frankfort, and surrounding country, that he has in store and to arrive, a large and selected stock of Family Groceries, Wines, Liquors, &c., &c., which he offers on as good terms as any house in the city—consisting in part as follows.

6 lbs strictly Prime Sugar;
12 bags Eastern Coffee;
2 bags do Java Coffee;
5 lbs assorted crushed and powdered Sugar;
10 lbs Plantation Molasses;
2 lbs Sugar House Molasses;
Golden Syrup in 10 lbs, half and 10 gallon kegs;
An assortment of fine French and Black Teas;
4 lbs Pure Cider Vinegar;
40 lbs No. 3, Large Macaroni;
10 boxes Star Candles, 4, 5, 6;
8 boxes Summer pressed Candles;
10 boxes Raisin Soap;
Also, Starch, Indigo, Soda, Saleratus, Rice, Pepper,
Spices, &c., &c.

For sale by
T. CALLAGHAN.
Sept. 24 1854.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

WM. M. TODD,
No. 1, Swigert's Row, Frankfort, Ky.

HAS received a portion of his full purchase of Boots and Shoes, consisting of—Gent's fine Calf Boots and Booties; Gent's Glove Kid Congress Boots; Gent's Calf Congress Boots; Gent's Calf Oxford Shoes.

Also, men's, youth's and boys' Kip and Calf Brogans, of the very best quality, and warranted to give satisfaction.

LADIES' SHOES.

A party of our stock of Ladies' Shoes have come to hand, and as it is, we think we can suit them, as we have received some very neat styles. Our stock of—
MISS'ES' AND CHILDREN'S Boots, Shoes, Gaiters, &c., is as good as could be desired, and think we can please the most fastidious. It gives us pleasure to show our stock, and invite those in want of good art to give us a call.

W. M. TODD,
P. S. Bowkan, will always be found at his post.

W. H. KEENE,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER
IN GROCERIES, LIQUORS AND PROVISIONS.

AT THE HOUSE, RECENTLY OCCUPIED BY Brown & Sayers.

THE undersigned, having made his stock complete, solicits the patronage of the former patrons of the house and all other friends. He pledges himself to try to make it their interest to patronize him. His stock consists in part of—New Orleans Sugar; powdered, crushed and loaf
Sugars; Plantation and Sugar-house Molasses; St. Louis Syrup, &c.; Guinowder, Innerland and Black Teas; Rio and Java Coffee; Mould and Star Candles; Lard Oil, Butter and Water Cakes; Assorted Nuts; Macaroni
in 10 lbs and half lbs; Rice; Flour, Starch, Salt, Tea, Buckets, Baskets, Malt Liquors, Wood Saws, Dippers, Vinegar, Spices of every description, and other articles too numerous to mention.

W. H. KEENE.

LADIES READ THIS.

OUR assortment of Ladies, Misses, and Childrens shoes are ready for exhibition. The variety is too tedious to mention; give us a call, we can furnish you with any shoe that has not a name, and what is more, at the very lowest prices.

EVANS & CO.

FAT HOGS FOR SALE.

150 TO 200 FAT HOGS for sale, to be delivered at the pen in Scott Co. From 300 pounds and up. They will be fat finished. Apply to W. H. KEENE.

AYER'S PILLS.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC.

There has long existed a public demand for an effective purgative pill which could be relied on as sure and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues has conclusively shown with what success it accomplishes the purpose designed.
It is easy to make a physical pill, but not easy to make the best of all pills—one which should have none of the objections, but all the advantages, of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public decision. It has been unfortunate for the patient hitherto that almost every purgative medicine is acrimonious and irritating to the bowels.
This is not. Many of them produce so much gripping pain and revulsion in the system, as to more than counterbalance the good to be derived from them. These pills produce no irritation or pain, unless it arise from a previously existing obstruction or derangement in the bowels. Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity; but it is better that any medicine should be taken judiciously. Minute directions for their use in the several diseases to which they are applied are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them, we may mention Liver Complaint, in its various forms of Jaundice, Indigestion, Langour and Loss of Appetite, Liteness, Irritability, Bilious Headache, Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side and Loins; for, in truth, all these are but the consequence of diseased action in the liver. As an aperient, they afford prompt and sure relief in Costiveness, Scour, Colic, Dysentery, Hemorrhoids, Scorbutic, Piles, Colds with soreness of the bowels, Ulcers and impurity of the blood; in short, any and every case where a purgative is required.

They have also produced some singularly successful cures in Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Gravel, Erysipelas, Pimples of the Face, Pains in the Back, Stomach, and Side. They should be freely taken in the spring of the year, to purify the blood and prepare the system for the change of seasons.
An occasional dose stimulates the stomach, opens the bowels into healthy action, and restores the appetite and vigor. They purify the blood, and, by their stimulant action on the circulatory system, renovate the strength of the body, and restore the power of diseased energies of the whole organism.
Hence an occasional dose is advantageous, even though no serious derangement exists; but unnecessary dosing should never be carried too far,
as every purgative medicine reduces the length,
and to a certain extent the strength of the body,
a physician is required cannot be enumerated here, but they suggest themselves to the reason of every body; and it is confidently believed this pill will answer a better purpose than any other which has hitherto been available to mankind. When their virtues are once known, the public will no longer doubt what remedy to employ when in need of a cathartic medicine.

PREPARED BY
JAMES C. AYER,
Practical and Analytical Chemist,
LOWELL, MASS.

Price 25 Cents per Box, Five Boxes for $1.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid Cure of COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

This remedy has won for itself such notoriety from its cures of every variety of pulmonary disease, that it is entirely unnecessary to recount the evidence of its virtues in any community where it has been employed. So wide is the field of its usefulness, and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to our climate. And not only in formidable attacks upon the lungs, but for the milder varieties of Croup, Croup, Hoarseness, &c.; and for CHILDREN it is the pleasantest and safest medicine that can be obtained.

As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best that it ever has been, and that the genuine article is sold by—
For sale by
Dr. J. M. MILLS.

Cabinet Wareroom & Manufactory.

JOHN D. RAKE

REPECTFULLY informs his friends that he is now located in the new Shop on Main Street near the residence of Dr. J. M. Mills, where he will be ready to receive his old customers, and others who may patronize him. He has a good stock of Furniture on hand, to which he respectfully invites the attention of all wishing to purchase.

COFFINS.
Made to order at all times—night or day—promptly. He has a new HEARSE, with which he will attend calls at any time night or day.

Aug. 29 1854—54

LOW-PRICED PIANO FORTES.

DURING the past three weeks we have opened a large number of Pianos Fortes, made especially for this market. They are in neat rosewood cases, mostly 6 octaves, made and finished in the most substantial manner, and of the best materials. The tone especially is of such a quality, that purchasers need have no fear of their becoming harsh or noisy after two or three years use. In fact, we have no hesitation in warranting them for five years, or even ten if desired. Moreover, we will sell these desirable instruments at from $200 to $250, which is at least 10 per cent less than is usually demanded for Pianos of inferior quality. Remember, our warerooms are No. 78 West Fourth Street, Cincinnati.

Agents for Price & Co's Melodians.

NEW BAKERY.

HAVING connected with our Confectionery on Market Street, a Bakery, and employed a top confectioner, we are now prepared to furnish all articles of the kind, and of the most perfect quality, and at all other ways patronize us. We intend keeping on hand at all times fresh bread and cakes, and every other article usually kept by Confectioners. We know we can make it an object to those wanting parties or weddings furnished, to give us a trial.

We also have on hand all kinds of groceries, and would be pleased to receive a portion of the public patronage.

N. B.—We bread every morning
Sept. 24 1854—54

TO SPORTSMEN.

BALWIN'S Gun Wads, assorted sizes; Eley's Water-Proof Caps, Anti-corrosive and the common G. D.
Double and Single Barrel Shot Guns, from $5 up to 100.
Powder Flasks, Shot Bags, Game Bags of various pa-terns, Hunting Flasks and Leather Drinking Cups.
For sale at
Sept. 26.

TO THE PEOPLE.—We are now receiving our large and complete stock of Fall and Winter Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, &c., and still intend to offer great inducements to purchasers than ever. It is to your interest to call and examine the quality and price.

EVANS & CO.

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN N. YORK!

Pianos and Melodians for Cash.
HORACE WATERMAN, the great Music and Piano Forte Dealer, 333 Broadway, New York, preferring to share a large per cent with his customers, rather than pay to the Sharppers of Wall Street, a rise available means to enable him to sell the greatest warranted Pianos and Melodians at a large discount from Factory prices, for cash. His assortment comprises Pianos from three of the Largest and most Celebrated Boston Manufacturers, also those of several of the best New York makers, including the beautiful and much admired Horace Waterman Pianos from his own factory. Melodians of the best Boston, New Haven, New York, and Boston makes, affording an opportunity for selections not to be had elsewhere. Each instrument warranted Second-hand Pianos at great Bargains—from $100 to $1500. Music and musical instruments of all kinds. Dealers, teachers and heads of schools supplied on best terms. Music sent by mail post paid. General and select Catalogues of music, select factory prices of Pianos, Melodians and musical instruments forwarded to any address, free of postage.
Sept. 28 1854

BOOK BINDING.

A. C. KEENON informs his friends & former customers, that having regained his health, he has purchased back from A. G. Hodges the Bindery sold to him in November last, and will give his whole attention to its management. He respectfully solicits a continuance of the patronage heretofore extended to the establishment.

Books will be furnished with Record Books, ruled to any pattern, and of the very best quality as low as any other in the city.

Blank Books of every description, manufactured at short notice, on reasonable terms.
Bindery at the old stand over Harlan's Law office
mch 19

MRS. MARGARET HERRINSMITH

INFORMS the ladies of Frankfort and vicinity, that she has received her FALL STOCK OF MILLINERY GOODS,

which consists of every article in the Millinery Business.
I invite the ladies of this city and county to examine my stock. It is selected with great care, and every article is made in the latest style, and I will sell equally as low as any other in the city.

Bleaching and Trimming done in the latest fashion
Oct 14

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

20 boxes Virginia Tobacco;
10 boxes Missouri Tobacco;
10 boxes German Cigars;
A 100000 Havana Cigars—for sale by
E. L. SAMUEL.

CANDLES—

20 boxes Star Candles;
24 half boxes Star Candles;
10 boxes Star Candles;
10 boxes Star Candles; for sale by
E. L. SAMUEL.

FINE TOBACCO AND CIGARS at TODD & GOODWIN'S.

DAGUERRETYPE

AND CHRYSTALLOTYPES.

J. C. MERINE,

HAVING purchased the stock and apparatus of Mr. H. L. Goodwin, has opened a Daguerreotype and Chrystallotype Room, opposite the Capital
Hotel, in the building occupied by Dr.
Merine. His admirable arrangements for light enable him to take portraits in all weathers, with certainty, and in the highest style of art.
In a few days—soon as some chemicals order arrive—he will be ready to take pictures by the new and beautiful method of Chrystallotype. The public are invited to call and see his specimens of art.
Mr. Merine's gallery continues to paint Portraits to order either from the original features or from Daguerreotypes.
His studio is in another room of the same building.
Frankfort, Oct. 31, 1854—tf

Strayed.

FROM the subscriber, living in Frankfort, on Wednesday, Nov. 8, a small RED COW, five years old, one horn a good deal shorter than the other—small bag, with black test.
Also, on Saturday evening, November, 21st, a large BRINDLE COW, old—blind in right eye. Both cows nearly dry when they left.
The red cow was raised by Belove, on Benson, and was purchased by me, only a few days previous to her departure, from JOHN SMITH, Esq., living on the old Lexington road. The brindle cow was purchased last Spring from F. CHINN, Esq., about 6 miles from town, on the Georgetown pike. A small reward will be paid for the delivery of either or both of said cows to my at my residence on Lexington hill, or for any information that will enable me to get them.
S. MCHESENEY.

Nov. 28, 1854.

PISTOL LOST.

LOST, on Wednesday evening last, Nov. 8, a 23, between Johnson's Livery Stable in Frankfort, and Dr. Crutcher's residence on the Georgetown turnpike, an ALLEN'S PATENT REVOLVING PISTOL. Liberal reward will be paid to the finder on delivery of the same this office.

Nov. 28, '54.

E. L. SAMUEL.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCER,
St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Ky.

AT STAND RECENTLY OCCUPIED BY "SETTLE & ROBERT"
HAS selected an entire new stock of Groceries, which he offers at a small advance on the Louisville prices, for cash. Having selected his merchandise with great care, and at the lowest prices, he cannot fail to please the most discerning customers.
Dec. 2

NEW BOOT & SHOE
MANUFACTORY.

RICHARD KEY would respectfully inform the citizens of Frankfort and vicinity, that he has opened on the way out, at the stand of the old postoffice, an establishment for the manufacturing of BOOTS AND SHOES.

of every description. He will keep constantly on hand, or make to order, all descriptions of LADIES' and GEN-TLEMEN'S WARE, in the most superior style, and at workmanship. It will be his aim to supply the most substantial manner, and of the best materials. Both in style and durability, all who may favor him with their patronage, and therefore solicits a share of the patronage of the community.

P. S. Remember that the old postoffice building on Broadway is the place to get good and cheap bargains.
Give me a call.
Aug. 22, '53

THE EXCITEMENT

STILL ON THE INCREASE AT SONNEBURG'S.

WHO has just returned from the East and Cincinnati with $20,000 Worth of Ready-Made Clothing, which he promises to sell upon better terms than can be found in any other establishment in the city. Let every body remember that I am now receiving and am ready to sell at prices to suit the most fastidious, the most extensive lot of

FAIL AND WINTER CLOTHING

upon record. My stock consists of everything in the gentlemen's furnishing line. It has been selected exactly by me, and I know it is the best. We know I have on hand, and will always keep a complete assortment of Coats, Pants, Vests, Shirts, Drawers, Hats, Caps, &c., &c.

together with every article usually found in a Clothing Store.
Gentlemen desiring to replenish their Clothing would do well to give me a call, as I am satisfied they cannot do better than at any other establishment in the city.
Sept 14

A. SONNEBURG.

APPLES.—20 bbls fine Jettene's Apples for sale by

V. S. WEST & CO.

BRANDY.—20 bbls common Brandy

just received and for sale by
W. H. KEENE.

FALL HATS.—The most fashionable

as well as the most comfortable Hat or Cap worn can always be found at
Nov 11

EVANS & CO'S.

BUSINESS CARDS.

ARF, SMITH & CO.,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW,
And Real Estate Brokers,
39, RANDOLPH STREET,
CHICAGO, ILLS. sp14 54

JNO. RODMAN,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
ST. CLAIR STREET,
NEXT DOOR TO THE HORSE TELEGRAPH OFFICE.
jnt 13

THOMAS B. MONROE, JR.,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
AND EXAMINER
TO TAKE DEPOSITIONS IN PAYETTE COUNTY, LEXINGTON, KY.

J. M. HEWITT.....P. U. MAJOR.

HEWITT & MAJOR,
PARTNERS IN THE
PRACTICE OF THE LAW,
WILL give their prompt attention to business confided to them in the Court of Appeals, Federal and Circuit Courts in all other Courts which hold their sessions in Frankfort, Ky.
mch 22 1854—tf

E. P. ATTICUS BIBB,
Counsellor and Attorney at Law,
FRANKFORT, KY.
Office on St. Clair street, near the Bridge.

JOHN A. MONROE,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
FRANKFORT, KY.

WILL practice Law in the Courts held in Frankfort and adjoining counties. He was a Commissioner under the act of 1852, and of the several courts held their sessions at Frankfort, and other courts held their sessions at Frankfort, in other States; and as Commissioner under the act of Congress, attend to the taking of depositions, affidavits, &c.
Office, Federal Court Clerk's Office, near the Bridge.
July 1 1853—by.

G. W. CRADDOCK,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
FRANKFORT, KY.

OFFICE west side of St. Clair street, over Morse Telegraph office. Will practice Law in all the Courts held in Frankfort, and adjoining counties.
mch 22, 1852—tf

C. S. MOREHEAD.....MASON BROWN.

MOREHEAD & BROWN,
PARTNERS IN THE
PRACTICE OF THE LAW.

WILL attend to business confided to them in the Court of Appeals, Federal Courts, and other courts which hold their sessions at Frankfort, Ky. One or both may always be found at their office, to give counsel or transact business. jnt 24, 1852—by

JOHN M. HARLAN,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
FRANKFORT, KY.

Office on St. Clair street, with J. W. L. Harlan.

REFERS TO
Hon. J. C. CRITTENDEN,
Gov. of W. VA.,
Hon. C. A. HARRIS,
Taylor, Turner & Co., Bankers, Lexington, Ky.
G. H. MONROE & Co., Bankers, Louisville, Ky.
W. FARRER, Louisville, Ky. July 28, 1853.

JOHN M. McCALLA,
Attorney at Law, and General Agent,
WASHINGTON CITY.

LAW NOTICE.

BEN. MONROE,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
FRANKFORT, KY.

HAS associated with him in the practice of the Law his son, BEN. MONROE. They will practice in the several courts held in Frankfort, and attend to collections in the adjoining counties. Strict attention will be given to any business confided to their care.

JOHN A. PRALL,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
VERSAILLES, KY.

WILL promptly attend to any business entrusted to him in Woodford and the adjoining counties.
July 12, 1853.

BEN. J. MONROE,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
FRANKFORT, KY.

Office third door from the bridge. July 20

ANDREW MONROE,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

WILL practice in all the Courts of Jefferson county and the city of Louisville.
He will also continue to practice in the Franklin Circuit Court and the Court of Appeals.
Office on Fifth street, between Main and Market, up stairs, over the Gas Bank, with JOHN O. BARRITT.
Dec. 21 1853—wctw

JOHN W. STEPHENS,
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAINTER, PAPER HANGER, &c.

ALL orders left at Luckett & Hampton's Book and Shoe Store, will be promptly attended to.
March 17, 1853

SAMUEL W. REYNOLDS,
PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL
SIGN PAINTER,
Broadway, Lexington, Ky.

ALL orders left at his shop on Broadway, between Main and Short streets, will be promptly attended to.
sep 5

JOHN LONG,
General Agent, and Newspaper Collector,
FRANKFORT, KY.

ALL communications addressed to him at Frankfort, Ky., promptly attended to.

References:
Helms & Major, Publishers, Ky. Yeoman.
W. T. Herndon, Sheriff Franklin county.
Capt. Sam. Steele, Frankfort, H. T. Morris

A CARD.

TO THE CITIZENS OF FRANKFORT AND VICINITY.

G. W. EVANS,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 10 Jordan's Row, Lexington, Ky.

HAVING returned to Lexington, solicits your patronage, as heretofore, and returns thanks for the past.

JOHN W. BIRNEY,
FASHIONABLE BARBER
AND
HAIR DRESSER,
ON THE COR

State Democratic Convention.

We are authorized to state that the Democratic Central Committee, who have been requested to name the time and place for holding a Convention of the Democratic party of Kentucky, for the nomination of candidates for Governor and Lieut. Governor, and the transaction of other matters pertaining to politics, recommend to the party that they meet in State Convention at Frankfort, on the 15th day of March, 1855.

Louis Kossuth.

"We have often been struck with the peculiarities of this strange, notorious individual. Ever since we knew of him we have never been able to determine whether he was sane or insane, a genuine lover of his country, or a splendid demagogue. In the opening of his career, when his country was struggling to be free, when its strong arms and stout hearts were striking and beating for the preservation of their homes and friends, and he was their leader, we were strongly impressed at the difference between his promises, threats, and high sounding words and those of his actions. The spirit which manifested itself in the terrible 'high-falutin'' of his proclamations and pronouncements and the imbecility of his manner of carrying them out was discernable to the most casual observer. One would have supposed from reading the one that he was possessed of the courage and genius that could pull up mountains by the roots, and with comparative ease, hurl them with deadly force at the heads of gods; and from the other that he had not spirit enough to defend himself from the attack of a half-grown school-boy. In his professions he loved his country next, in his actions, to his God. In his matchless patriotism he swore to liberate her or die and leave his martyred remains in her bosom as a bloody trophy to inspire those who might come after him; and yet at the moment of its first reverse of arms he saved his precious life by making tracks as fast as possible for a distant land.

Having left his comrades to take care of themselves as he had done, or to imitate themselves for their country as he had promised to do, he was, by the noble courage and generosity of Turkey, saved. He knew next what to do to maintain his already acquired notoriety, and transposing himself into a sort of pedagogue for nations, came across the broad Atlantic to teach us freemen how to be more free, and perpetuate that freedom to the end of time. He was master of our language. Thoughts that breathed and words that burned" were in his head and on his lips, and with eloquence "to stir men's blood" he became a Peter-the-hermit for political religion.

Himself was the tomb where the holiest of all holy freedom was buried, and it was our first and highest duty to rescue it from the ruthless hand of the barbarous infidel. But men here were not as disposed to listen, with melting eyes and shocked hearts, to the idle tales of an enthusiast as were those of old, and some had even the audacity to think and assert that he was rather Barnumish and presumed overmuch upon the generally acknowledged gullibility of our people. The avowed great object of his immortal mission failed, however, and with the exception of not a few thousand dollars in the real "chink," besides being feasted and treated at the public expense, he left our shores, and us, in as great a quandary in regard to his real character as we were before. He left us not one whit the wiser in the great lessons of freedom than when he came. Bequeathed as we are, we seem obstinately determined to pursue the same tracks as those followed by Washington, Jefferson, Jackson and others, even though it lead us to the same fate to which Kossuth led his own doomed country. He left us without taking with him those eighty thousand saddles with which he was to ride down and over the enemies of himself and countrymen, nor did he take along with him all those muskets which he did not purchase, and perhaps, never expected to purchase. We presume his far-seeing eye and splendid military genius had discovered in the art of war a new manoeuvre on the battle field that would annihilate the whole of the hosts of Austria at one full swoop of eighty thousand saddles, which by his vast skill had been transformed into an "infernal machine."

Be that as it may, the "apostle of liberty" is still abroad, and true to his instincts, is attempting at this time to Barnumize old John Bull. Two or three times he has taken the animal by the ears to teach it how to fight. But the animal seems to have heeded it but little, and has kept on in the even tenor of its way in spite of all those flaming sentences which he thought would fall like coals of fire upon their cold hearts and kindle them into a blaze that would be felt and seen, not only from every mountain top in Hungary and Poland, but all Europe and Asia. It may or it may not be a pity that England has not followed the advice of the illustrious Maguire in the prosecution of the war she is now making against the ambition of the Czar of Russia, for we care but little which goes down in the struggle, but we think England has acted shabbily towards him in not appointing him generalissimo of the allied forces. With him and Gen. WATSON WEBB of the New York Courier and Enquirer, at their head, Sevastopol might now be a mass of ruins over which the haughty Czar would weep as bitter tears as were shed by Marius over the ashes of Carthage.

"We hung up our stockings on Christmas eve, and in the morning we found a hole in it. —Lou Times. Well, what of that? The hole will wear as long as any part of the stocking. We suspect, however, that it was a whole bottle of brandy which the editor himself had hid therein from the sharp eyes of his wife.

"The prospects for high water are now very flattering. —Lou Times. During these Christmas times the prospect for men getting high is also very flattering.

EXPEDITION FOR LIBERIA.—Arrangements have been made by the Colonization Society to send the brig Gen. Pierce from Savannah on the 30th of December. It is expected that about one hundred emigrants will embark, mostly from Georgia and Tennessee.

[From the Paducah Democrat.]

Democratic Meeting.

Pursuant to call, a portion of the democrats of M'Cracken county met at the Court House in Paducah, on Monday last, the 11th inst. The meeting was organized by calling A. M. GAINER, Esq., to the Chair and appointing R. B. J. TWYMAN, Secretary.

On motion the Chair appointed G. H. Morrow, K. Jones, H. Milliken, W. D. C. Johnson, H. Hall, and R. B. J. Twyman a committee to report suitable resolutions, and a list of delegates to the State Convention. The committee having retired, reported the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, We hold it at all times proper for the people to assemble in public meetings and take into consideration and give an expression of opinion on the political questions of the country, we, a portion of the people of M'Cracken county, do

Resolved, That our faith in the great principles of the Democratic party is firm and unshaken, and we will adhere to and support them, believing them to be the only true principles which have stood the test of time in the practicable administration of the affairs of our National Government.

Resolved, That the fundamental principles of Democracy are at war with, and antagonistic to, secret political organizations and all proscription for religious opinions.

Resolved, That we cordially endorse the administration of President Pierce, as fully carrying out and sustaining the true principles of the Democratic party and the country.

Resolved, That we most heartily approve and endorse the Nebraska and Kansas Bill, as embodying the letter and spirit of our Federal Constitution, on the subject of the sovereignty of the people of the States and Territories, over all questions of local State policy, not coming in contact with the Federal Constitution.

Resolved, That we approve of the proposed Democratic State Convention, to nominate candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, at the next August election; and that we prefer Frankfort as the place, on Thursday, the 15th day of March next, (it being the birth day of that Apostle of Democracy, the immortal Andrew Jackson), as the time of holding said Convention.

Resolved, That J. D. Morgan, N. Fretwell, W. D. C. Johnson, Samuel R. Hines, J. H. Hines, J. N. Coffey, J. B. Wiley, J. W. Ogilvie, H. Hall, A. M. Gainer, M. C. Clark, H. Milliken, R. B. J. Twyman, K. Jones, L. S. Trimble, G. H. Morrow, W. Nolen, L. D. Husbands, Abram Boyd, John Milliken and R. L. Nance, be and they are hereby appointed delegates to represent the Democrats of M'Cracken county in said Convention.

Resolved, That we do cordially approve of the proposition to hold a District Convention, at Benton, to nominate a Democratic candidate for Congress, and we recommend Thursday, the 1st day of March next as the time.

Resolved, That the Democrats in each Civil District in M'Cracken county, are hereby respectfully requested to appoint delegates to said Congressional District Convention, in such manner as they may think proper.

On motion the meeting then adjourned, with the request that the Democratic papers in the State publish these proceedings.

A. M. GAINER, Ch'n.

R. B. J. TWYMAN, Sec.

A MATTER OF REFLECTION FOR THE KNOW-NOTHINGS.—Geo. BAXCROFT, the great historian, in a recent address which he delivered before the Historical Society, of New York, thus eloquently alluded to the obligations we owe to other lands:

"Our land is not more the recipient of men of other countries than of their ideas. To annihilate the past of any one leading nation of the world, and our destiny would have been changed. Italy and Spain, in the persons of Columbus and Isabella, joined together for the great discovery that opened America to emigration and commerce; France contributed to its independence; the search for the origin of the language we speak carries us to India; our religion is from Palestine; the hymns sung in our churches, some were first heard in Italy, some in the desert of Arabia, some on the banks of the Euphrates; our art came from Greece, our jurisprudence from Rome, our maritime code from Russia; England taught us the system of representative government; the noble republic of the United Provinces bequeathed to us, in the world of thought, the great idea of the toleration of all opinions—in the world of action, the prolific principles of federal Union. Our country stands, therefore, more than any other, as the realization of the unity of the races."

Mr. SOULE.—The following extracts of a letter from Mr. Soule to Mr. Mason, announcing that the French government had prohibited him from passing through France, appear in the Journal L'Homme:

"This case will not admit of any equivocation. Of an outrage which attacks my public character, M. Bonaparte endeavors to make this tardily, and only a personal affront, my antecedents he has told you 'being of a nature to provoke the attention of the imperial government.'"

"Well, I will oppose my antecedents to those of my insulter."

"As you know, I exiled myself voluntarily in 1852, to escape persecution brought upon me by the ardent struggle in which I had engaged against the deplorable policy inaugurated by the accession of Charles X to the throne of France, and which in 1830 led to the breaking by the people of the crown of that monarch."

"Whilst I was studying liberty in the country of my adoption; whilst I was devoting myself to serious pursuits—thanks to which I have been able to become what I am—M. Louis Bonaparte, twice a rebel and once a murderer, appeared as a criminal before the grand tribunal of nations over which he at present reigns as an insolent despot, and was condemned to an ignominious punishment."

"Whilst a Senator, elected by the free and unsolicited suffrages of the State of Louisiana, I mounted the steps of the Capitol, M. Louis Bonaparte was bathing in the blood of a people massacred by the scoundrels whom he had just enrolled to make them the monsters of his appetite and his ferocity."

"Another breach is expected in the Methodist Church. Rev. Dr. Bond, editor of the New York Christian Advocate, in noticing the opposition to the appropriations of missionary money to the preachers laboring in their slave-holding conferences, says:

"We have seen strange things in the lapse of three score years and ten, but this is the climax of the marvelous; and though we are no prophet, nor the son of a prophet, we venture to predict that mischief is now brewing in our church—agitations, convulsions and disruptions, such as we have never witnessed before."

"The Kentucky Yeoman has undergone some very important changes of late. Our esteemed namesake, J. L. GIBSON, of Louisville, an excellent practical printer, has taken an interest in the establishment; and the Yeoman is now one of the best-printed, as it has heretofore been one of the best-edited papers in the State. We wish it increased success.—Harrodsburg Ploughboy."

"We learn that there was an affray at the Smithland wharf last week, between two boatsmen, in which one of the parties received a terrible wound in the abdomen, letting out his bowels and killing him instantly. The murderer was instantly arrested.—Princeton Kentuckian."

[From the Washington Union.]

The President's Message—Further Reflections.

No document that has ever issued from an American Executive has been waited for with more solicitude than the second annual message of President Pierce; and judging from indications, none has ever been waited for with more general satisfaction. The National Intelligencer of yesterday takes the lead in commendations of its general tone, and of its direct and luminous style. That paper says:

"Respecting the message of yesterday, we are gratified to find that all which was predicted of its unexceptionable character has been substantially verified. It is certainly distinguished by moderation of tone and a freedom from all exciting and capricious appeals; great calmness and ambitious and perspicuous account of public affairs, announcing an unprecedented state of prosperity and progress at home, and of peace and amity in our relations abroad."

And again:

"It is a new thing, and certainly a subject of congratulation, to find the message of a Democratic President so free from appeals to the passions of the country, so simple and unassuming in its exposition of the administrative concerns of the government, and so commendable for the justness of sentiment touching international rights and duties which the message contains."

It is impossible to overrate the salutary effects of such a paper in the present condition of the world. In its relations to our country, there is a distinctness of detail, a comprehensiveness of statement, and a convincing vindication of great principles, which show how wisely and sagaciously the administration of public affairs has been conducted. Never before was the value of a government to a free people more eloquently portrayed. No abuses have been allowed to creep into the respective departments. Each cabinet officer has devoted himself with unflinching industry to his own high duties. We find the Treasury, in all its operations, laid open before the public eye. Economy and vigilance have been the prevailing elements in this important branch of government. Fraud has been detected, extravagance arrested, the public debt reduced, the various checks upon the collection of the revenues strengthened and confirmed, and the independence of the Treasury secured.

In the midst of expanding credits and general extravagance, (succeeded as they have been by general distress,) once more proved to our financial system and to the interests of the people.

The Navy Department has been no less successfully and carefully conducted; and we shall await the report of the Secretary, who will make known to us the progress of the naval marine, the President has struck a chord of popular feeling that will, we hope, soon be responded to by Congress. This is a point upon which intense solicitude is felt, and we can add nothing to the strong and conclusive reasoning that marks this portion of the message. The same may be said of the bold and seasonable suggestions in regard to the Department of War.

Our post office system is becoming a subject of profound interest; and as it affects the immediate personal interests of the citizens in a greater degree, perhaps than that of any other department, we hope the various suggestions of the Postmaster General, sustained as they are by the endorsement of the Executive, will be promptly responded to by the people's representatives.

The Interior Department, so far as it is referred to by the President, and in view of the report of the Secretary, opens a wide field for observation and reflection. The public land system, the pension laws, the patent laws, and last, though not least, our relations with the Indians, will constitute topics for future discussion in these columns.

But if the American heart palpitates with emotions of joy at the prosperous condition of our growing country—at its progress in all the arts of peace—at the gratifying results which have rewarded a watchful administration of the government—and at the preparations that are suggested to meet our future necessities, and to arm us for the emergency, can we return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any reference whatever to the wretched criticisms of mere partisans; and we shall leave that task in the hands of those who are so ready to return to the cities of the trying times—these sensations will be elevated and increased when we recur to the tone of the message in regard to our foreign relations. It would be an ungracious talk to mingle with this view of the message any Nineteenth Day.

THURSDAY : : : : : DECEMBER 28.

Mr. S. H. PARVIN, No. 63 Fourth street, between Walnut and Vine, Cincinnati, is our authorized Agent to receive and receipt for advertising and subscription to the Kentucky Yeoman.

REMOVAL.

The office of the "KENTUCKY YEOMAN" has been removed to the new three-story building on Main street, near the corner of St. Clair.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—Miss LUCRETIA A. WRIGHT will address the citizens of Frankfort and vicinity, on the subject of Temperance and a Prohibitory Law, at the Presbyterian Church, on Saturday evening, the 30th inst., at 6½ o'clock. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

The Kentucky river at Frankfort is slowly on the rise, and is supposed boats can ply between Louisville and Frankfort by Sunday next. The river has risen, in all, about 28 or 30 inches.

GREENWOOD SEMINARY.—The thirteenth session of this excellent school commences on Monday, the 8th of January next. For particulars see advertisement in another column.

FRANK LESLIE'S LADIES' GAZETTE.—The December number of this beautiful book of fashions is upon our table. It contains all the latest Paris, London and New York styles, besides a great quantity of interesting reading matter. This work should be taken by all the gentler sex who wish to keep themselves well informed as to the various styles of dress. The subscription price is only $3 per annum, or twenty-five cents a number, and may be had at the principal book-stores in the Union.

COTILLON PARTY.—Those of our young friends who wish to enjoy an evening in the pleasures of the "art terpsichorean," are referred to the notice of the Assembly Ball Club, in another column.

The Louisville Democrat says that one thousand barrels of mess pork were sold in that city on the 26th, at $12 per bbl.

HEAVY ROBBERY.—On Christmas night, the jewelry store of HUDSON & DOLINGER, in Louisville, was entered and robbed of gold watches, chains, bracelets, &c., to the amount of $1500.

"We rather think we shall have to be protected for a few weeks—so as to protect against our debtors submitting us to such a procedure."—Paduach Journal.

When the editor's creditors protest him, and he protests his own creditors don't that make it even?

Some young ladies say that the times are so hard that young men cannot pay their addresses.—Exchange.

It's all true. If a young man while single can't pay his addresses, how could he when married for his wife's dresses?

A Mr. McDONALD, of Fayette county, Virginia, was robbed of $1200 while in the Cincinnati market, Saturday, looking at the show meats.

KANSAS EMIGRANTS.—Since the Kansas bill passed, the New York Emigrating Company have directly forwarded over one thousand emigrants to Kansas, and indirectly one thousand more. Provision is made to forward eleven hundred more in the spring. This is in addition to the large number sent out by the New England Society.

Over Charles Sumner is confined to his bed with rheumatism.—Cin. Gazette.

It's by far the most respectable sin he ever had.—Lou. Times.

And will remain so until he is attacked by some fatal ism.

Over fifteen thousand men and women are out of employment in the city of New York.—The greater proportion are tailors and tailoresses.

We learn with pleasure that Col. R. B. Carpenter, of Covington, has so far recovered from his wounds as to be enabled to ride out.

The new Catholic Church of Corpus Christi, in Newport, was consecrated on Sunday, December 24th.

To be Hung.—George, a slave, convicted of burning several houses in Cadiz, Trigg county, has been sentenced to be hung on the 9th of February.

Married, on the 20th inst., at Aberdeen, Ohio, four fair representatives of the illustrious families of Jones, Smith, Adams and Cook, to-wit:

Miss Ellen Adams and Mr. Woodson Jones; Miss Mary Cook and John W. Smith, Esq., all of Lexington, Ky.

Mr. T. C. MAUPIN, of Alexandria La., was robbed at his boarding house in Wheeling last week of $1740. The robbery was committed by Jas. MARTIN, of Arkansas, who had been the traveling companion of Maupin. Martin was caught in Newark, Ohio.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.—We learn from the Paduch Journal, that Jas. DET, residing a few miles from that town, was accidentally shot in the thigh last week, and the bone was so completely shattered that amputation was necessary. He died afterwards. When shot he was walking behind his brother, who was carrying his gun in a reversed position, with the lock under his arm to keep it dry, as it was raining.

A small girl, daughter of RILEY ASHLEY, living in Jasper county, Indiana, while gathering crab-apples a few days since, in a small grove near the father's house, was shot in the forehead by some traveler in a wagon, who was amusing himself by shooting at game along the way.

SHOOTING AND STABBING AFFRAY.—In Murray, Calloway county, on Saturday Dec. 16th, Mr. WM. STARKS and SILAS LAWRENCE had a rencounter, in which the latter was shot through, and the former stabbed in the back. The ball entered Lawrence's abdomen near the navel and came out near the spine. It is thought he will die.

MONDAY, Dec. 25.

CAUSES DECIDED.

Hedger v Ward, Bracken; reversed.
Hobbs v Hedger, Bracken; reversed.
Hedger v Crain, Fleming; affirmed.
McRoberts v McCleny, Fleming; affirmed.
Cord v Pearce, Fleming; affirmed.
Swain v Caran, Fleming; reversed.
Holliday v Murphy, Nicholas; affirmed.

ORDERS.

Waugh v Piper, Nicholas;
Carrington v Carrington, Lewis;
Menifree v Hedges, Bourbon; McKinn v Robinson, Bourbon; Lyster v Davis, Bourbon;
Collins v Champ, Bourbon—were argued.

Twenty-first Day.

TUESDAY, Dec. 26.

CAUSES DECIDED.

Weaver v Smart, Nicholas; affirmed.
Waugh v Piper, Nicholas; reversed.
Johnson v Hunt, Fleming; reversed.
Carrington v Carrington, Lewis; reversed.
Gault v Gault, Mason; affirmed.
Newdegate v Gill, Fleming; affirmed.
Lyster v Davis, Bourbon; dismissed for want of jurisdiction.
Thomas v Wade, Bourbon; affirmed.

ORDERS.

Brent v Miller, Bourbon;
Adams v Richardson, Bourbon;
Campbell v Thompson, Bourbon;
Goddard v Maddock, Bourbon;
Smith v Morehead, Bourbon; Kize v Gallagher, Harrison;
Kensler v Kensler, Harrison—were argued.

Twenty-first Day.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 27.

CAUSES DECIDED.

Adams v Richardson, Bourbon; affirmed.
Campbell v Thompson, Bourbon; affirmed.
Brent v Miller, Bourbon; affirmed.
Campbell v Thompson, Bourbon; reversed.
Goddard v Maddock, Bourbon; reversed.
Jefferson v Nebb; Mason; reversed.
Kize v Gallagher, Harrison; affirmed.
Kensler v Kensler, Harrison; affirmed.

ORDERS.

Robinson v Hampton, Harrison;
Gardner v Egnow, do
Dunn v Stewart, do
Thompson v Smith, do
Harrison v Smith, do
Oldham v Hall, Pendleton;
Carney v Harman, Pendleton—were argued.

IMPORTANT INSURANCE DECISION.—The Supreme Court of New York has recently declared the division of the notes of mutual insurance companies into classes illegal and void; consequently, assessments made by these companies, discriminating between these classes, are of no effect, and will probably not be honored by the makers. This is a most important decision, and will be very extensively felt in the business world.

WHAT THE LAW DEEMS LUXURIES FOR A WIFE. A novel case has just been decided in New York, which involves a curiosity in medicolegal jurisprudence. A mesmeric physician used a husband for services rendered the wife in his absence, and the supreme courts say that in the 8th act of Cushing's Reports is their opinion in the case, viz: that the law does not recognize the dreams, visions, or revelations of a woman in a mesmeric sleep as necessities for a wife, for which the husband, without his consent, can be made to pay. These are fancy articles, which those who have money of their own to dispose of may purchase, if they think proper; but they are not necessities, known to the law, for which the wife can pledge the credit for her absent husband.

The Sandusky Register of the 21st says: "Thirteen fugitives from bondage passed through this city last week, seeking freedom in the land of the Queen."

A SLEDGE SENTENCED.—E. F. FREEMAN, a school-teacher of Marion, Linn county, Iowa, who seduced one of his lady scholars about a year ago, has been sentenced to three years in the penitentiary for the crime. He has a large and interesting family, and before the affair took place was a prominent member of the Methodist Church.

The Griffin House in Somerset, has been sold at public vendue for $2,205.

Gen. Frank J. White has been appointed Postmaster of Somerset.

Coal is being supplied by railroad from Covington to Lexington. It costs the purchasers in the latter place 35¢ per bushel.

The western part of Missouri is completely overrun with bands of prowling Indians, who steal everything they can find, in order to ward off starvation. Recently a citizen of Gentry county shot and killed three, who were stealing hogs.

The New York Courier & Enquirer has a very severe notice of Fanny Fern's new book. It concludes by saying—

Ruth Hall has one great, and entirely unparadigmatic blemish. It is evidently in part an intended revengeful purpose. We see in it the deplorable spectacle of a sister and daughter painting herself as a suffering angel, while—consistently with truth or not, it makes no matter—she holds her brother and her father up to public scorn as demons of selfish hard-heartedness. It is possible that others may be surprised that Fanny Fern should do so monstrous a deed; but although she is as unknown to us as the Queen of the Sandwich Islands, we are not surprised. Her previous books prepared us for it.

KILLED BY ETHER.—In Albany, New York, on the 21st, a beautiful young girl, eighteen years old, named Weaver, belonging to Schoharie county, was operated on in the hospital for a tumor, in the neck. Ether was administered, when she fainted; stimulants were then given so as to revive her; when more ether was had recourse to, the operation was proceeded with. She was completely stupefied, and not long afterwards died.

It was Bishop HORNBY's opinion that there is no better moralist than a newspaper. He says:

"The follies, vices, and consequent miseries of multitudes displayed in a newspaper, are so many beacons continually burning to turn others from the rock on which they have been shipwrecked. Who more powerfully dissuasive from wickedness, jealousy and anger, than the story of one friend murdered by another in a duel? What caution likely to be more effectual against gambling and profligacy, than the mournful relation of an execution, or the fate of despairing suicide? What finer lecture on the necessity of economy, than the auction of estates, houses and furniture? Only take a newspaper, and consider it well—pay for it—and it will instruct thee."

It was Bishop HORNBY's opinion that there is no better moralist than a newspaper. He says:

"The follies, vices, and consequent miseries of multitudes displayed in a newspaper, are so many beacons continually burning to turn others from the rock on which they have been shipwrecked. Who more powerfully dissuasive from wickedness, jealousy and anger, than the story of one friend murdered by another in a duel? What caution likely to be more effectual against gambling and profligacy, than the mournful relation of an execution, or the fate of despairing suicide? What finer lecture on the necessity of economy, than the auction of estates, houses and furniture? Only take a newspaper, and consider it well—pay for it—and it will instruct thee."

It was Bishop HORNBY's opinion that there is no better moralist than a newspaper. He says:

"The follies, vices, and consequent miseries of multitudes displayed in a newspaper, are so many beacons continually burning to turn others from the rock on which they have been shipwrecked. Who more powerfully dissuasive from wickedness, jealousy and anger, than the story of one friend murdered by another in a duel? What caution likely to be more effectual against gambling and profligacy, than the mournful relation of an execution, or the fate of despairing suicide? What finer lecture on the necessity of economy, than the auction of estates, houses and furniture? Only take a newspaper, and consider it well—pay for it—and it will instruct thee."

It was Bishop HORNBY's opinion that there is no better moralist than a newspaper. He says:

"The follies, vices, and consequent miseries of multitudes displayed in a newspaper, are so many beacons continually burning to turn others from the rock on which they have been shipwrecked. Who more powerfully dissuasive from wickedness, jealousy and anger, than the story of one friend murdered by another in a duel? What caution likely to be more effectual against gambling and profligacy, than the mournful relation of an execution, or the fate of despairing suicide? What finer lecture on the necessity of economy, than the auction of estates, houses and furniture? Only take a newspaper, and consider it well—pay for it—and it will instruct thee."

It was Bishop HORNBY's opinion that there is no better moralist than a newspaper. He says:

LINSEED CAKES.—Some time since we alluded to the high estimation in which the British farmers hold oil-cake as food for stock, particularly for fattening beef and mutton, while its importance has been almost entirely overlooked by our own farmers. Until the present season the sale of oil-cake in this market, for home consumption, has not exceeded 40 or 50 tons a year, and this has been principally fed by dairymen of foreign education.

We are pleased to learn that our farmers are now beginning to appreciate its value. The sales at the mill in this city the present season, we are informed, average 2½ tons a day. It is chiefly bought by the enterprising farmers of Fayette, Bourbon, Woodford, and Scott counties, some of whom have taken 10, 20, and 30 tons each; others have bought in smaller quantities by way of experiment. It is the most concentrated and nutritious of all the kinds of food. Not more than from 2 to 4 lbs. should be given to each head of cattle a day, and this should be mixed with the meal and other grain and be thoroughly incorporated with cut hay or straw. It greatly improves the healthy condition of the skin, and gives the coat a fine, sleek appearance, while it fattens most rapidly.

The supply of beef cattle in the United States is constantly falling off, and hence prices must rise high, for a long time to come; and, while the price is high, it will bring in England, it is fully to suffer it to go to feed British cattle and to enrich British soil.

Wheat bran has long been a favorite food for stock with many. It is now selling at about $30 per ton, while its comparative value is not one-tenth that of oil-cake. As a general article of food, Bousquet's states nine pounds of bran only equal to ten pounds of prime hay. With the present improvements in flouring mills the bran is but little more than the outer membrane of the wheat. It is valuable, however, at certain times, when fed to horses and other animals, on account of the laxative effect it produces. It also contains a large amount of bone earth, which renders it valuable for milch cows and calves; but used as it frequently is, about cities and towns, as almost the exclusive food for cows, it is the least economical of any kind of fodder.—Lou. Jour.

FURTHER FROM THE AMERICA.—The steamer Atlantic arrived on the 24th inst. from New York.

The steamer Sarah Sands and Washington sailed according to appointment; the latter took out to New York £106,000 in specie.

Negotiations of a most important and complicated character, which will, most probably, involve all the European States in a general war, have been concluded.

The latest dates from Sevastopol say the Russians were making frequent sorties, but were in all cases repulsed, without, however, any very severe fighting.

The latest dates from the Crimea are to the 27th of November, up to which time the siege continued.

The Duke of Cambridge was expected at Constantinople.

Admiral Hamlin had resigned the command of the French squadron in the Black Sea, and had returned to France. The remainder of the French troops in Greece had been ordered to the Crimea.

It is stated in England that it is the intention of the Government to augment the British army by an addition of 30,000 men.

PICKPOCKETS AMONG THE LADIES.—All of our larger cities are infested by a class of rogues who devote themselves to picking the pockets of ladies—perhaps because they think the chances of capture in case of detection are slighter, or perhaps because they think that in these days of woman's rights the ladies hold the purse strings and carry the money. In New York, a few days since, two well-dressed men got into an omnibus, assumed opposite seats, and accidentally, as it seemed, the portions of their cloaks over the dresses of two ladies who sat besides them. After riding a short distance they stopped the coach and went their way. So the ladies wished to get out, and the daughter, putting her hand in her pocket for the portmonee, found that her sociable friend had carried it away. The daughter, then put her hand next to the other man, then put her hand into her pocket and found that the rascal had, in his efforts to secure the purse, made a cut of a quarter of a yard in length through all her clothing, nearly to the skin. Fortunately her money was in an under dress and the thief was foiled.

A GOOD ONE FOR BELMONT.—A correspondent of the New York Times says that Belmont, in his correspondence with the Dutch Minister of Foreign Affairs, on Capt. Gibson's case, stated that he would refer the whole matter to the United States Government for enforcement. The Dutch Minister wants to know the meaning of the word, enforcement, and Belmont sent him a copy of Webster's quarto dictionary, with the leaf turned down at the right place, and permitted the Minister to take choice of the meanings.

REPATRIATE.—The Rev. Dr. McC., minister of Douglas, in Ohio, was one day dining in a large party where the Hon. Henry Erskine and some other lawyers were present. A great dish of crosses being presented after dinner, Mr. McC. who was extravagantly fond of vegetables, helped himself much more largely than any other person, and as he ate with his fingers, with peculiar voracity of manner, Mr. Erskine was struck with the idea that he resembled Nebuchadnezzar in his state of condemnation. Resolved to give him a hint for the apparent grossness of his taste and manner of eating, he addressed him with,

"Dr. McC., you bring me in mind of the great Nebuchadnezzar."

The company were beginning to titter at the ludicrous allusion, when the Rev. vegetable devotee replied:

"Ah, do I mind ye o' Nebuchadnezzar? That'll be because I'm eating among the brutes."

It is rumored that JULIA DEAN, the actress, is about to be married to JAMES ANDERSON, the English tragedian.

COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE LOUISVILLE COURIER, TUESDAY EVENING, Dec. 26th.

Yesterday was Christmas day; and to use the report on the Merchants' Exchange book, there was business doing. To-day the market has been excessively dull, with drizzling rain falling all the time, and an impenetrable fog prevailing on the river, and no boats running. The river, however, is on the swell, with a hope of renewed navigation and improved commercial transactions.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.—The market for flour is inanimate with small sales of fair brands, from stores at $7.75; sales of extra at $8.00. Wheat is scarce at $1.50. New Corn, 62¢/65¢ cents, and old, from stores, 75¢ cents. Oats, 40¢/45¢ cents. SHEETING.—Sales of different brands at 8½¢/8½¢.

CANDLES.—A sale of Star at 25¢, with the usual discount.

GROCERIES.—Sales of Rio Coffee at 12¢/12½¢. A sale of 42 boxes sugar at 5¢/5½¢.

PROVISIONS.—Rather dull, with however more inquiry, and a sale of 1000 barrels mess pork at $12.00.

TOBACCO.—No sales at $5.35, $5.15, $5.20, $6.35, and $6.60.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 26.

E. H. TAYLOR, JR., CLYDE TURNER, WM. SHOCKE.

TAYLOR, TURNER & CO., BANKERS.

INTEREST allowed on deposits, which may be withdrawn at pleasure. Aug 23 if

AT COST!

Until the 1st of January, 1855!!

ONE OF THE LARGEST AND MOST DESIRABLE

STOCKS OF DRY GOODS

IN FRANKFORT.

PERSONS in want of articles in that line would do well to call before that time, and call early.

The attention of the Ladies is particularly invited to the stock of Fancy Goods.

Sales commenced this day. B. F. JOHNSON.

Nov. 22, 1854—11 Jan.

NEW ESTABLISHMENT.

BARNEY TODD, HUGH L. GOODWIN.

TODD & GOODWIN

HAVING purchased the establishment lately occupied by T. P. Pierson, on St. Clair street, and refitted and repaired the same, they intend to keep constantly on hand a full supply of everything in their line of business. Among the articles they always have on hand are—

Bread and Cakes of all kinds;
Confectionery of every variety;
Dried and Preserved Fruits;
Nuts of all kinds;
Oysters, Sardines, dried Salt Fish;
Rice, and all kinds of Provisions;
Coffee, Sugar, Molasses;
Tobacco and Cigars, superior quality;
Musical Instruments, Toys;
Fancy Goods, Perfumery, &c.;
All of which will be sold as cheap as the cheapest.

Preparations for Parties, Weddings, &c., made promptly to order. oc31 if

AT HIS OLD STAND AGAIN!

J. L. MOORE

HAS removed to his new building on Main street, where he will be pleased to see his old customers, friends, and all others wishing NEW CHEAP AND DESIRABLE GOODS.

His stock is large, having just made a second importation this fall. oc31 if

WM. MORRIS, J. J. HAMPTON.

MORRIS & HAMPTON

ARE now receiving and opening, at their store on St. Clair street, next to Todd & Goodwin's Confectionery, their fall and winter stock of Boots, Shoes, Hats and Caps.

Just imported from the East, in variety, elegance and style, equals if not surpasses any stock in this market. These articles are all new, having just been purchased from the best manufacturers in Philadelphia and New York. We invite particular attention to our unrivaled assortment of—

FANCY SHOES, For both ladies' and gentlemen's wear, selected for winter use, and to their excellent stock of HATS, from which any one can suit himself. We have an excellent stock of BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

We invite the public to call and examine this stock of goods, and assure them they will find it to their advantage to purchase of us. nov14

ADAM HAGAN, CHAS. HAGAN.

A. HAGAN & BRO.,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

BOOKSELLERS & STATIONERS,

NO. 90, THIRD ST.,

BETWEEN MARKET AND JEFFERSON,

LOUISVILLE, KY.

MEDICAL, School and Miscellaneous

Books; Cheap Publications; Stationery of every description; Blot Books.

Agents for Harper's, G. A. M. Putnam's, Gould's, Hunt's, Messinger's, Blackwood and London Quarterly Reviews.

NEW FIRM.

W. A. BLACKBURN, W. A. GAINES.

BLACKBURN & GAINES,

HAVING ASSOCIATED THEMSELVES TOGETHER IN THE

DRY GOODS BUSINESS,

HAVE now open at Bell's old stand, on Main Street, a large and entire new stock of FALL AND WINTER GOODS.

embracing every article in their line of business. They sell at the patronage of their old friends and the public in general.

FALL AND WINTER GOODS.

M. BARSTOW,

CORNER BROADWAY & ST. CLAIR STS.,

FRANKFORT, KY.

HAS just received a complete stock of

Fall and Winter Dry Goods, Boots,

Shoes, Hats, Caps, Groceries, &c., which he will sell as low for cash as they can be had in this city.

He also keeps constantly on hand a good assortment of HOME-MADE CLOTHING, cut and made in the best style, which he will sell cheap. Call and examine his stock. Nov 4, 1854.

COFFEE.—

10 sacks Rio Coffee;

Java and Mocha Coffee; for sale by

V. S. WEST & CO.

nov11

The Non-Resident Heirs

OF EUCLID L. JOHNSON are hereby notified, that on the 1st day of the next January term of the County Court of Scott county, Kentucky, which will be the 15th day of January, 1855, they are required to apply to said court for the appointment of commissioners to convey to them one hundred acres of land, which was the water of McClellan's Run, for which they hold the title bond of said Johnson, by assignment from Bartlett M. Hall.

ASA H. OWEN, JANE OWEN.

nov14

BOOTS, SHOES, &c.—Our stock of Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Traveling Trunks, Carpet Bags, Satchels, &c., &c., is of the very best, and we have no doubt our prices will be found to suit the times. C and see. [d19] W. M. TODD.

SUGAR.—

5 hds prime Sugar;

Crushed, powdered and loaf Sugars; for sale by

V. S. WEST & CO.

nov11

Books and Fancy Goods

For Christmas & New Year's Presents.

OUR stock of the above goods is now ready for inspection. We will take great pleasure in showing to our friends and customers in quest of bargains in this line of articles will be certain to find them at

EVANS & CO., Book and Shoe Store.

dec 19

HOLIDAY HATS.—We expect a lot of gentlemen's fine Soft, Black and Fancy

Hats this day by Express. We have always the very best style of Hats. dec 19

EVANS & CO., Book and Shoe Store.

dec 19

BOARDING.

MRS. E. P. CONERY,

On Broadway Street, Frankfort, Ky.

TAKES BOARDERS by the day or week. She has large and comfortable rooms, and her table will be furnished with the best market

table. nov14 if

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.—

20 boxes Virginia Tobacco;

10 boxes Missouri Tobacco;

25,000 German Cigars;

9,000 superior Havana Cigars—for sale by

E. L. SAMUEL.

sep25

CANDLES.—

20 boxes Star and Lee;

MEDICAL

READ! READ! READ

Philadelphia Medical House.
Established 20 years ago by DR. KINKELIN, corner
Third and Union streets, between Spruce and Sp Philadelphia, Pa.

INVALIDS!
Are apprised that DR. KINKELIN confines his pr tice to a particular branch of Medicine, which engag my undivided attention. He cautions the unfortun against the abuse of mercury; thousands are annual mercurialized out of life. Recent affections are prom ly extinguished.

TWENTY YEARS EXPERIENCE.
In the treatment of a class of disease hitherto neglected and imperfectly understood, has enabled Dr. K. KELIN, (Author of a work on Self Preservation) to prove that nine tenths of the causes of nervous debility, general and constitutional weakness, mental and physical suffering, and all the various morbid habits, forming the most secret yet deadly and fatal springs of domestic misery and premature mortality.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.
There is a second edition of this work, and a list of and which, if not reformed in due time, not only give rise to a series of protracted, insidious, and devastating affections. Few of those who give way to this pernicious practice are aware of the consequences, until they find the nervous system shattered, feel strange and unaccountable feelings, and vague fears in the mind. The unfortunate thus affected becomes feeble, is unable to labor with accustomed vigor, or to apply mind to study; his step is tardy and weak, he is d irresolute, and engages in his sport with less ene than usual.

If he emancipate himself before the practice done its worst and enter matrimony, his marriage unfruitful, and his sense tells him that this is caus his early follies. These are considerations that sho awaken the attention of those similarly situated.

MARRIAGE

Requires the fulfilment of several conditions, in or that it may be really the cause of mutual ben

Could the veil which covers the origin of domestic wretchedness be raised, and its treasurose in every instance disclosed—in how many could it be traced to physical disqualifications and their attendant disappointment! Apply them while it is yet time, in order to have your unstrung and relaxed organization rebraced, revived and strengthened.

REMEMBER

He who places himself under Dr. KINKELIN'S treatment may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman.

man, and rely upon the assurance, that the secrets of Dr. K's patients will never be disclosed.

Young man—let no false modesty deter you from making your case known to one who from education and responsibility is certainly not befuddled you.

Too many think they will conceal the secret in their own hearts, and cure themselves. And how often this a fatal delusion, and how many a promising young man, who might have been an ornament to society, is faded from the earth.

Strictures of the urethra are rapidly removed by application of a new therapeutic agent, used only Dr. K. Weakness and constitutional debility promnured, and full vigor restored.

COUNTRY INVALIDS

Can have (by stating their case explicitly, together with all their symptoms, per letter enclosing a reference) Dr. K.'s medicine, appropriated accordingly.

Forwarded to any part of the United States, and protected secure from DAMAGE or CURIOSITY.

READ!!

Youth and Manhood.
A vigorous Life, or a Premature Death. Kinkelin's Self Preservation—Only 25 cents.
 A letter with a remittance of 25 cents, or the value of postage stamps, addressed to—DR. KINKELIN, Philadelphia, Pa. will secure a copy of either of the above books by return of mail; 12 copies will be sent free of post for $1. Booksellers, Canvasers, Traveling Agents, &c., supplied wholesale at the publisher's prices, with addition of a large profit.

$500 REWARD!!!

DR. C. A. PERKINS & CO. continue to be consulted at their office, on Second street, between Ky. and Market, Louisville, Ky., relative to all diseases of a private or delicate nature.

By a long course of study, and practical experience of an unlimited extent, we have now the gratification

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—Dr. P. & Co. devote a part of their time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, producing the unfortunate individual for either the family or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth are Weakness of the Back and Limbs, a Stiff Neck, a Wandering Sight, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forbidden

Aversion of Society, Self Distrust, Timidity, &c., among the evils produced. Such persons should, be contemplating marriage, consult a physician of experience and skill, and be restored to health and happiness.

☞ Angue and Fever cured in twenty, four hours warranted.

Letters addressed to Dr. C. A. Perkins & Co., Louisville, Ky., box 1,319, Post Office (prepaid) containing name, residence, and ailment, will receive immediate attention, and answer sent to any part of the country, secure from observation. The strictest secrecy observed.

Office on Second Street, between Market
Main Louisville, Ky. dec 15—

LIVER COMPLAINT Dyspepsia, JAUNDICE,
CHRONIC NERVOUS

DEBILITY, DISEASES OF THE KID-NEYS, AND ALL DISEASES ARIS-ING FROM A DISORDERED LIVER OR STOMACH;
Such as Constipation; inward Piles; Fullness of B-to the Head; Acidity of the Stomach; Nausea; He-burn; Disgust for Food; Fullness of Weight in the ach, Sour Pruritions; Sickling or Fluttering at the of the Sublimity, swiftness of the Heart; Murmur Difficult Breathing; Fluttering at the Heart; Choking Suffocating Situations when in a lying posture; In-firmness of Vision; Dots or Webs before the sight; Faintness and Dull Pain in the Head; Deficiency of Perspiration; Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c., Sudden Flushes of Heat; Burning of the Flesh; Constant Imaginings of evil; and Great Depression of Spirits:

CAN BE EFFECTUALLY CURED BY DR. HOEGLAND'S

DR. CROOK'S
CELEBRATED GERMAN BITTER
PREPARED BY
DR. C. M. JACKSON
No. 120 Arch street Philadelphia.
Their powers over the above diseases is not exceeded by any other preparation in the United States as the cures attest, in many cases after skilled physicians had failed.

These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids. Possessing great virtues in the rectification of disorders of the Liver and lesser glands, exercising the searching powers in weakness and affections of the digestive organs, they are, withal, safe, certain and pleasant.

READ AND BE CONVINCED.
H. W. Ohaney, Millersburg, Ky., Oct. 15, 1884, said: "Having sold your Pitters some time, I find it gives satisfaction in every instance that has come before me."

News & Edwards, Salvisa, Ky. June 1872, said: "We rejoice to inform you that this judiciously selected medicine has fully maintained the excellent reputation which has been given it, and having tried its virtues we unhesitatingly say it eminently deserves it."

J. T. & J. W. Berry, Unfointown, Ky., 21, 1872, said: "We have heard of many cures performed by the use of Dr. Hooftland's German Bitters and believe it to be a valuable medicine."

J. Grant Irvine, Ky., June 26, 1892, said: "I have succeeded in introducing your Hoodland Bitters, physicians and others purchase them by the half dozen." D. R. Fatio & Bro., Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 18, 1891, said: "Your Bitters are now selling very well and every person that has used it, so far as we have been able to learn, has been benefited."

These bitters are entirely vegetable, they invigorate and strengthen the system, never prostrate it, and are for infants, soldiers, sailors, and all.

For sale by respectable dealers everywhere,
Sold by CANNON & GAINES, Frankfurt.
Feb. 7.

Proclamation by the Governor
In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

WHEREAS, it has been made known to me by the managers of the Western Lunatic Asylum of Kentucky, that the said Asylum is ready for the reception of

Now therefore, I LAZARUS W. POWELL, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do declare said Western Lunatic Asylum of Kentucky ready to receive patients.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I
 [L S] hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed, at Frankfort, this 1st day of Nov, 1854, and in the presence of the Commonwealth.

By the Governor, L. W. POWELL.

GRANT GREEN, Secretary of State.

BACON! BACON!—2,000 lbs sm
Hams, Shoulders and Clear Sides Bacon, for
by [nov16] V. S. WEST & CO

Such as Constipation; inward Piles; Fullness of Blood to the Head; Acidity of the Stomach; Nausea; Heartburn; Disgust for Food; Fullness of Weight in the Stomach, Sour Prurications; Sinking or Fluttering at the top of the Stomach; Swimming of the Head; Hurried Difficult Breathing; Fluttering at the Heart; Choking; Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture; ness of Vision; Dots or Webs before the sight; Faintness and Dull Pain in the Head; Deficiency of Perspiration; Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, B. Chest, Limbs, &c., Sudden Flushes of Heat; Burning of the Flesh; Constant Imagerings of evil; And Great Depression of Spirits:

CAN BE EFFECTUALLY CURED BY

DR. HOOFLAND'S

CELEBRATED GERMAN BITTER

DR. C. M. JACKSON
No. 120 Arch street Philadelphia.
Their powers over the above diseases is not exceeded by any other preparation in the United States, as the cures attest, in many cases after skilful physicians had failed.
These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids Possessing great virtues in the rectification of dis-

of the liver and lesser glands exercising the searching powers in weakness and affections of the digestive organs, they are, withal, safe, certain and pleasant.

READ AND BE CONVINCED.

H. W. Chaney, Millersburg, Ky., Oct. 15, '84, said: "Having sold your Pitters some time, I find it given satisfaction in every instance that has come under my notice.

Nelson & Edwards, Salvisa, Ky., June 1881, said: "We rejoice to inform you that this June

J. T. & J. W. Berry, Uniontown, Ky., 21, 1852, said: "We have heard of many cures performed by the use of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters and believe it to be a valuable medicine."

Dr. P. Fatio & Bro., Knoxville, Tenn., A. 6,151, said: 'Your Bitters are now selling very and every person that has used it, so far as we have able to learn, has been benefited.'

These Bitters are entirely vegetable, they invigorate and strengthen the system, never prostrate it, and be used for Infants as well as adults.

For sale by respectable dealers everywhere.
Sold by CANNON & GAINES, Frankfort.

Feb 7.

Proclamation by the Governor

In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

WHEREAS, it has been made known to me by the managers of the Western Lunatic Asylum of Kentucky, that the said Asylum is ready for the reception of patients.

Now therefore, I, LAZARUS W. POWELL, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do declare

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I [L.S.] hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed, at Frankfort, this 1st day of Nov, 1854, and in the presence of the Governor.

L. W. POWELL,
GRANT GREEN, Secretary of State.

BACON! BACON!—2,000 lbs SH
Hams, Shoulders and Clear Sides Bacon, for [nov16] V. S. WEST & CO